Luxury hotel operator, Langham Hotels International (LHI) has announced that T'ang Court, recent winner of two Michelin Stars in Hong Kong will open its first outpost in Shanghai at the new art deco property – The Langham, Yangtze Boutique, with reservations now being taken for stays and dining from May 1.

The new restaurant, located on the second floor of The Langham, Yangtze Boutique will feature the service, and ambience as well as all the signature dishes that made its Hong Kong counterpart famous. These include the highly-acclaimed Crispy Salty Chicken and Crispy-Fried Eel Balls with Plum Honey Sauce and Baked Oysters with Port Wine.

Group Chinese Executive Chef Kwong Wai Keung said: "We'll be bringing some of the magic that won T'ang Court in Hong Kong two Michelin stars to Shanghai. It won't be an easy proving ground but we'll let our cuisine and our elegant service enchant our guests."

Langham Hotels International is one of the few international luxury hotel groups to employ its own Group Chinese Executive Chef to oversee Chinese culinary standards.

Bob van den Oord, Vice President – Sales & Marketing said: "Langham runs three Michelin Star restaurants in the group which is quite an achievement for a group our size, underlining our commitment to luxury and quality."

"The introduction of T'ang Court at The Langham, Yangtze Boutique will be an exciting addition to the city's culinary scene where diners are renowned for being discerning in their tastes. We are determined to create the most memorable dining experience possible for our guests with the best Cantonese cuisine in town with the flair of Old Shanghai," he added.
